Surviving Legal Challenges on Land Use Decisions

Overview

The focus of this program will help plan commission and board of zoning appeals members deal with legal challenges to decisions they must make. Examples of situations faced by plan commission and board of zoning appeals members will be shared. Speakers include a member from plan commission, professional planner, and legal counsel for these land use decision making groups. Discussion will include suggestions on preventing legal action on decisions made by these land use decision making groups as well as how to conduct yourself if you are being legally challenged

The program will include:

- Ways to prevent legal challenges on land use decisions
- How to respond to legal challenges to land use decisions
- Open door policy
